As kids and young adults prepare to leave their classrooms for the summer – some of whom will take their first big steps into the “real world” – we are happy and hopeful for their future. Who knows where their lives will take them? We as parents, mentors, and friends want to help put them on the best footing possible to achieve their dreams.

A reminder to all members – OIAA offers two scholarships each year to students pursuing education in a field related to construction, aggregates, or forestry including:

Current members, employees of member companies, and their families can apply for these scholarships.

Help out an aspiring student you know and tell them to apply! The application is included with this newsletter.

Take care and be safe,

Our 2025 Scholarship Application period is now open. The guidelines and application are attached at the bottom of this newsletter. It will also be posted on the website. Please pass this information along to your family and employees

Mobile Equipment at Surface Mines

Haul trucks and other large surface mining vehicles are capable of destroying smaller vehicles that cannot be seen by the operator. Traffic controls, training, and avoiding distractions are key to enhancing safety. Collision warning and avoidance systems can also help.

KEY SAFETY PRACTICES

Communicate and verify with all equipment operators any planned movements and location upon entering or exiting a work area.

Ensure all persons are trained to recognize workplace hazards. Specifically, train equipment operators on the limited visibility and blind spot areas that are inherent to the operation of large equipment. Do not drive or park smaller vehicles in mobile equipment's potential path of movement.

Instruct all operators on the importance of using flags or strobe lights on the cabs of their vehicles to make haulage truck operators aware of their location. Flags must be high enough to be in the view of equipment operators.

Install and maintain collision avoidance/warning technologies on mobile equipment.
